Q: Split string into ArrayList of Strings using regex I'm not sure if this is possible, but I would like to split my input into an ArrayList of Strings using the following String String s = "This is a line of text, in which there are many spaces, a tab and a comma" I would like the result to be an ArrayList of strings that contain all of the possible types of separators (e.g. [0] = " ", [1] = "\t", [2] = "," [3] = "." [4] = "-" [5] = "+" etc.) A: Here is the code using regex : public static void main(String[] args) { String s = "This is a line of text, in which there are many spaces, a tab and a comma"; List result = new ArrayList(); Pattern pattern = Pattern.compile(" +"); Matcher matcher = pattern.matcher(s); while (matcher.find()) { result.add(matcher.group()); } System.out.println(result); } DUBAI (Reuters) - Hundreds of Iranians protested outside the Israeli embassy in Tehran on Friday in the latest of hundreds of demonstrations against a new U.S. military accord to halt Iran's missile program. The Iranian people have grown increasingly angry over a multilateral deal reached by Iran and six world powers on November 24 to curb Tehran's disputed nuclear program in exchange for the lifting of international sanctions. Reuters witnesses estimated the crowd at around 300 and saw protesters approach the embassy in the capital. Some chanted "Death to America". "We protest today in front of the U.S. embassy because the Iranian people want to overthrow the U.S. regime and they see the U.S. as a major terrorist state," demonstrator, Mohammad Rasouli, told Reuters. "There is no more room for America in the Middle East and the world"
